The Indian Independence Act 1947 (10 & 11 Geo. 6. c. 30) is an act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom that partitioned British India into the two new independent dominions of India and Pakistan. The Act received Royal Assent on 18 July 1947 and thus modern-day India and Pakistan, comprising west (modern day Pakistan) and east (modern day Bangladesh) regions, came into being on 15 August.^{[1][a]}

The legislature representatives of the Indian National Congress,^[2] the Muslim League,^[3] and the Sikh community^[4] came to an agreement with Lord Mountbatten, then Viceroy and Governor-General of India, on what has come to be known as the 3 June Plan or Mountbatten Plan.

MANIFEST DESTINY

American Expansion and the Empire of Right

Anders Stephanson

اردو میں

In English

Manifest Destiny is defined as “the concept of American exceptionalism, that is, the belief that America occupies a special place among the countries of the world.” The Puritans came to America in 1630 believing that their survival in the new world would be a sign of God's approval.

ATIF F QURESHI

An example of Pakistan's 'manifest destiny' – a quote from Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, speaking from the floor of the National Assembly on 16 March 1966 (in the wake of the debacle of the 1965 war):

“Pakistan is a great ideal. A member of this House has said that Pakistan is a man-made country. Pakistan is not just a man-made country. It is a God-made country. It is a beautiful thought. It is a creation of excellence. That is what Pakistan is... not just the sandy desert of Sindh or the rugged nobility of Baluchistan and the enchanting lushness of Bengal or the inspiring plains of the Punjab or the raw courage of the land of the Pathans. Indeed all these things... go to make Pakistan... [But] there is something much more to Pakistan. It is the blessing of Allah. Pakistan is the creation of the surge of Islamic nationhood. Pakistan is the product of an earth-shaking idea. It is a revolution cut out of the heart of history... Pakistan is a live revolution.”

Operation Gibraltar

Operation Gibraltar was the codename of a military operation planned and executed by the Pakistan Army in the territory of Jammu and Kashmir, India in ...

Execution

Despite initial reservations by the President of Pakistan Ayub Khan, the operation was set in motion. In the first week of August 1965 (some sources put it at 24 July),^[29] Pakistani troops who were members of Azad Kashmir Regular Force (Now Azad Kashmir Regiment) began to cross the Cease Fire Line dividing Indian- and Pakistani-held Kashmir across the Pir Panjal Range into Gulmarg, Uri and Baramulla.

Several columns were to occupy key heights around the Kashmir valley and encourage a general revolt, which would be followed by direct combat by Pakistani troops. According to Indian sources as many as 30,000^{[5][30]} – 40,000 men had crossed the line, while Pakistani sources put it at 5,000 -7,000 only.^[31] These troops known as the "Gibraltar Force"^[5] were organized and commanded by Major General Akhtar Hussain Malik, GOC 12 Division.^{[6][7]} The troops were divided into 10 forces (5 companies each).^[5] The 10 forces were given different code names, mostly after historically significant Muslim rulers.^[30] The operation's name, Gibraltar, itself was chosen for the Islamic connotations.^[32] The 8th century Umayyad conquest of Hispania was launched from Gibraltar, a situation not unlike that Pakistan envisaged for Indian Kashmir, i.e. conquest of Kashmir from Operation Gibraltar. The areas chosen were mainly on the de facto Cease Fire line as well as in the populous Kashmir Valley.

What is History?

- History is based on finitude/materiality – the changing forms of matter
 - matter ≠/matter: matter is not self-identical: i.e., matter always exists in some finite and changing form (eg, language - even facial expressions), including linguistic, ideational and conceptual forms
 - materiality implies both:
 - continuity – nothing disappears without a trace: no difference without repetition
 - discontinuity – there is no repetition without difference (against presentism)
 - both similitude and difference are essential to historical investigation
 - history is about weighing (quantitatively and qualitatively) the actual measure, as well as the form of continuity and discontinuity, similitude and difference, oldness and newness (inheritance/heritage, and history), in each case
 - in the modern period discontinuity, difference, history and newness dominate (this does not mean that continuity disappears)

نسبت سے ہوتی ہے۔ نوآبادیات، سرمایہ دارانہ جدیدیت پر ایک نیا پیوند ہوتی ہے، اس کے نتیجے میں استعمار زدہ عوام کی آزادی مزید محدود ہو جاتی ہے؛ حقیقتاً وہ انفرادی آزادی کے ایک مسخ شدہ تصور سے آشنا ہوتے ہیں، اور اس کے تحت زندگی کرنے پر مجبور ہوتے ہیں۔ ان کی ذہنی سرگرمیوں، یعنی رائے عامہ کو جاننے، اسے اپنے حق میں تبدیل کرنے، اور ضرورت پڑنے پر کچلنے کی کوشش ہوتی ہے۔ یہی وجہ ہے کہ ازمنہ وسطیٰ میں ہمیں ریاستی بیانیے کم سے کم نظر آتے ہیں، لیکن نوآبادیاتی عہد میں ریاستی بیانیوں کی بھرمار ہونے لگتی ہے، جیسے اصلاح کا بیانیہ، تہذیب آموزی کا بیانیہ، قوم پرستی کا بیانیہ، احیا پسندی کا بیانیہ، یورپی آفاقیت کا بیانیہ، مشرق و مغرب کی تفریق کا بیانیہ، روشن خیالی کا بیانیہ، جڑوں کی تلاش کا بیانیہ، مطابقت پذیری اور مزاحمت کا بیانیہ، لسانی و مذہبی شناخت کا بیانیہ وغیرہ۔ یہ سب بیانیے قوانین، اخبارات، رسائل، تعلیمی نصابات، سرکاری و غیر سرکاری ادبی و ثقافتی انجمنوں، علمی و ادبی مباحثوں کے ذریعے فروغ پاتے ہیں۔ ان کا سب سے اہم اثر یہ ہوتا ہے کہ لوگ اپنا تصور، اپنی دنیا کا تصور، دنیا سے اپنے رشتوں کا تصور انھی کے ذریعے، اور انھی کی تعلقاتی حدود میں کرنے لگتے ہیں۔ ان کی وجہ سے نئے سماجی گروہ وجود میں آتے ہیں، اور ان گروہوں کی شناخت کسی نہ کسی بیانیے کی چھتر چھاؤں تلے ہوتی ہے۔

یہ درست ہے کہ ازمنہ وسطیٰ میں بھی اصلاح و احیا کی تحریکیں چلتی ہیں، مگر یہ نوآبادیاتی عہد کے اصلاح و احیا کے بیانیوں سے، جوہری طور پر مختلف ہوتی ہیں۔ یہ فرق صرف زمانے کے فرق سے پیدا نہیں ہوتا، بلکہ سیاسی و ثقافتی رویوں سے بھی پیدا ہوتا ہے۔ ممتاز ہندوستانی مؤرخ بی این پانڈے لکھتے ہیں:

ناصر عباس نیر، اردو ادب کی، B. N. Pande, Islam & Indian Culture (1990), cited in تشکیلِ جدید (۲۰۱۶)

عہدِ وسطیٰ کے اندر مسلم عہدِ حکومت میں ہندو اور مسلمان اصلاح پسند رہنماؤں نے مذہبی و اخلاقی پاکیزگی کی جو تحریکیں چلائیں، ان کا تعلق دونوں فرقوں سے تھا، مگر انیسویں صدی کے مصلحین علیحدگی پسند تھے۔ مثال کے لیے نانک، کبیر، چیتنیہ، دادو، تکا رام، بسویشور، پران ناتھ وغیرہ کا سرسید اور سوامی دیانند سے مقابلہ کریں۔ عہدِ وسطیٰ کے مذہبی راہنماؤں نے بنیادی طور پر مذہب کی اصلیت اور جوہر پر دھیان دیا تھا اور ظاہری اعمال، مصحف پرستی اور نظریہ پرستی پر زور دینے کی مذمت کی تھی۔ دوسری طرف جدید مصلحین نے مذہب کے باطنی جذبات اور رومانی جوہر کے بجائے خاص طور پر مذہبی عقائد اور فلسفہ پر زور دیا۔

The Modern 'Parha Likha' View of History

- History is the history of collective singularities – humanity, civilizations, nations, ethnicities
- These collective singularities have virtually existed time out of mind
- Modernity is the historical age par excellence
- History is a stage, we are (collective-singular) historical actors
- History is the performer as well as the spectator ('judgment of history')
- History is about power (social Darwinism) – and power is equal to power (Acton: power corrupts).
 - But there are forms of power!
 - A variety of state forms (not to mention non-state societies)

“Only in colonial times would [the word] ‘Islam’ abandon its grammatical role as a verbal noun describing a set of Muslim practices to become the proper name of a subject in its own right.”

- Faisal Devi, End of Islam

CEMİL AYDIN

“Provocative... Aydin ranges over the centuries to show the relative novelty of the idea of a Muslim world and the relentless efforts to exploit that idea for political ends.”

—Washington Post

When President Obama visited Cairo to address Muslims worldwide, he followed in the footsteps of countless politicians who have taken the existence of a unified global Muslim community for granted. But as Cemil Aydin explains in this provocative history, it is a misconception to think that the world's 1.5 billion Muslims constitute a single entity. How did this belief arise, and why is it so widespread? The Idea of the Muslim World considers its origins and reveals the consequences of its enduring allure.

“Much of today's media commentary traces current trouble in the Middle East back to the emergence of ‘artificial’ nation states after the fall of the Ottoman Empire... According to this narrative...today's unrest is simply a belated product of that mistake. The Idea of the Muslim World is a bracing rebuke to such simplistic conclusions.”

—Times Literary Supplement

“It is here that Aydin's book proves so valuable: by revealing how the racial, civilizational, and political biases that emerged in the nineteenth century shape contemporary visions of the Muslim world.”

—Foreign Affairs

Our Lord! Make us both 'fully' submit to You¹ and from our descendants a nation that will submit to You. Show us our rituals, and turn to us in grace. You are truly the Acceptor of Repentance, Most Merciful.

— Dr. Mustafa Khattab, The Clear Quran

Our Lord, make us devoted to You; make our descendants into a community devoted to You. Show us how to worship and accept our repentance, for You are the Ever Relenting, the Most Merciful.

— M.A.S. Abdel Haleem

Our Lord! Make us submissive to You and make out of our descendants a community that submits itself to You, and show us the ways of Your worship, and turn to us in mercy. You are Much-Relenting, Most Compassionate.
